Pages Friday, June 10, 2012 Changes in NCAA schedule, thoughts on the Bears The college football schedule is, almost without debate, the most important thing in sports. It's so important, in fact, that it's not even debatable; it's just "it." So much so that the sport, both college football and the NFL, is completely different on Sundays and every other day of the week because of the schedule. Just look at Thursday Night Football on the NFL to see how much we consider the schedule. Anyway, I wanted to comment on a few changes to the college football schedule that I think are important. I was first introduced to the changes last year when they were announced. After the announcement, I thought that they were boring, but now that the season is a little further along, I think that they're more important than I thought. I agree with what the committee is doing, and I've been of mind that it was a good thing to have. The changes to the schedule are aimed at more competitive games, but they still seem like they're trying to force the games to be better. The changes to the schedule
