Create an iPhone/iPad app using PhoneGap The HTML5 Mobile Web Application (aka PhoneGap App) platform aims to provide a HTML5 and JavaScript development environment for building "PhoneGap" applications, using Cordova (also), which are either a hybrid mobile web application running in a standard web browser or installed in a native mobile app for use on iOS, Android, or other mobile phone OS. 8+ years in development, the PhoneGap App platform can also be used to build mobile native apps for devices (iPhone, iPad, Android, BlackBerry, Nokia, Palm, etc.), through a native SDK that produces native code. I'm looking to build a PHP/Java Script based app for the iPhone/iPad, and the app will consist of several parts. Each part will be able to be either web based, or a native app if PhoneGap is used. I also want to use many of the PhoneGap modules to make the apps more interesting. Some modules include Dialogs, Storage, etc. The parts of the app are as follows, a registration form, a login screen, an activity report tool, a dynamic form, a driver report tool, a part number report tool, a part listing, a customer register, and a customer list tool, and many more. The goal of this app is to allow the user to view and download all of the data for each part or the entire app, and if possible upload new data, which
