The site is operated by the Marjan Oilfield Company, a joint venture between Saudi Aramco and the Chinese National Petroleum Corporation (CNPC), with a 50/50 share. CNPC was responsible for the exploration and the first phase of the development of the oilfield, while Saudi Aramco undertook the second stage of the project. The second phase of the Marjan project started in November 2007 and involved a budget of around $29 billion, and 1.3 billion barrels of oil. It was completed by the end of 2015. The Marjan oilfield is located 60 kilometers north of Dhahran, in the Al-Hasa region. It comprises three oil reservoirs: the Marjan-1 and Marjan-2 oil reservoirs, which have reserves of 630 million barrels and 600 million barrels, respectively, while the Marjan-3 reservoir has reserves of more than three billion barrels. Marjan-2 The main reservoir is the Marjan-2 oil reservoir, which has a total volume of nearly 6 billion barrels of oil equivalent. It is located more than 5 kilometers below the surface and has an average thickness of more than 2
