"SculptrVR Multiplayer World Creation Is An Absolute Blast" If there is anything that SculptrVR is not good at, it's multiplayer. Rather, SculptrVR is one of the best multiplayer VR games you can play, because it totally empowers you to build your own virtual worlds. What The 'VR Newbie' Needs To Know: "Don't be intimidated by SculptrVR, it's accessible from the start, and it's a great experience!" SculptrVR is a visual design tool, but unlike many other tools, SculptrVR actually brings your designs to life. You choose a starter kit, select a background image or media, and start designing your world - quickly and easily. You can add moving objects and objects that spin in a circle, and there are even some additional building blocks. Later, you can even play the world that you've designed with others by entering into their VR headset. In the multiplayer mode, you'll be able to see and interact with your friends' worlds. The Mastery Track: "There are special challenges, letting you hone your skills in areas like the color wheel and the animation tool."

SculptrVR is a great introduction to VR, so there are some challenges that are designed specifically to help you master SculptrVR, such as moving objects and creating multiple elements. While you can always switch to the Free Play mode to have a little fun on your own, the Mastery Track challenges help you learn the tools better. The game is also totally customizable and you can change nearly everything about your world. For instance, you can choose from a variety of colors to customize your world's look; change the text or particles on your objects; and even speed up or slow down your world's animation. For more than a few minutes, you can enjoy playing with your friends on a shared multiplayer world, and later, you can share your creations with everyone on the internet.

SculptrVR For VR-Only Players:
"SculptrVR is a great entry point into virtual reality, so you don't even need a headset." If you're new to VR and just interested in the technology, then you can play SculptrVR without using a headset, or even bring in your own AR/MR headset like Google Cardboard. You'll be able to play Sculptr

The VMware Tools on Linux Desperately Needs a GUI Portal This is either a feature request, or a bug ticket. I seriously need to know where to direct my fervent passion for upcoming features for VMware Tools and a screener to help direct it. Meanwhile, not while I sleep. This is definitely important to the success of our customer base, and to the Growth of our company. This is a feature I am personally looking forward to see.

is a feature that requires serious attention from several perspectives. Here is a synopsis of what needs to happen: 1) Collecting / Storing Tagged Models. Tagging models is not done with Slicer, because the ScalarEngine does not support it. It is done using the MotionGeneratorPC application. We include the MotionGeneratorPC application as part of the VMs. It is part of the VM Extras repository. There is more than one way to tag a model, each solution has its own cost or effort that needs to be figured out. The really difficult part is creating the content generated in other applications, in those cases, you cannot import the generated content into others solutions without some sort of adaption. To convert the content generated in Blender, a VR Studio seems like the natural solution. It has been suggested we develop an interface into those applications. i.e. Plugins to either network a real world DCC robot to the motion generator system, or a remote control object that is triggered a snipping machine or another VR generating solution. I personally am looking forward to working with the team that figured out the technology to display data from Altimetry/IAG capture rigs with VirtualRealityScreenShot. I already know the Output tools need to be restructured for VR renders that will help aid this process. (We would not only have to mimic the hardware as the best way we could, but could retarget the output frame rate for VR output, provide for frame decreasing, etc). 2) Collecting / Storing All MotionGenerator outputs. Again motion
